See How They Run! was first produced 55 years ago, yet it's humour is timeless and the play remains a popular farce with both amateurs and professionals. See How They Run! was first presented by the current St Martin's Players on Friday 26th & Saturday 27th July 1991, their first play following their debut pantomime, Sleeping Beauty. It was performed by a largely inexperienced and certainly apprehensive cast, who gained great enjoyment from their involvement. Since many of the 1991 personnel are still involved with the group, it seemed fitting that as part of our 10th season we should See How They Re-Run! and hope to welcome a few old friends, although no-one could really expect to be playing the same role again!, could they...?
