OUR NEXT PRODUCTION:

Murder in Play

Boris Smolensky's budget repertory production of Murder at Priorswell Manor is looking rather shaky. The cast are more interested in their egos than the play, then life imitates art when Boris' wife Renee is murdered on stage during rehearsal. Whodunnit?

We shall be reading and casting on Wednesday 13th & Friday 15th February for performances on
Fri 23rd May & Sat 24th May

Little Red Riding Hood

' Oh! Grannie! What big eyes you have! ...'

In idyllic but troubled Pantovia, brought near to ruin by the upstart Count De Cash, the Rumples family and their neighbours do their best to celebrate young Rosie's birthday, even if she is dreading the inevitable....her grandmother's present of a red riding hood! But the party is spoiled when the awful Count arrives and tries to drag the fair Rosie away to the castle. She is rescued by a brave young visitor and it is love at first sight. Little does she know that he is in fact Prince Rupert, the rightful ruler of the land. Alas they are soon separated, as a greater terror befalls troubled Pantovia and the Rumples: a Werewolf roams the woods ...

Martin Stone has bravely undertaken the dual role of producer/director of this classic tale. The costume and scenery teams have been hard at work, and so we trust have the cast. Not for the first time Dave Barnett plays Dame, Dave Adams is the baddie; Debra Gavin and Rae Calnan are Principal girl and Principal boy. Let us hope that they and the rest of the well-experienced cast can safely lead us from 'Once upon a time' to 'Happy ever after' ... werewolf or no werewolf!

We're not afraid of cancer

At the Royal Marsden, we're not afraid of cancer. We learn about it, we talk about it and most of all, use cutting-edge techniques to treat it. We are doing everything we can to help improve patient's survival rates - whether it is new drugs or better equipment and facilities. Currently we're busy raising money to transform our Medical Day Centre in our Chelsea hospital.
